

What is the Research Profile and Impact unit?

The Research Profile and Impact, a unit of the Office of the Vice-President Research, communicates USask research and its impact to the public.

The unit is the communications liaison with federal and provincial research agencies, and works in close co-ordination with University Relations and a network of U of S college and research centre communicators.

Research Profile and Impact

Office of the Vice-President Research

Director Heather Persson

Email | Phone 306-966-2506

Website: research.usask.ca

Login to continue reading

Related Articles

- Who can write for The Conversation Canada?
- How can I get my research featured in the Young Innovators series?
- What is the Young Innovators series?
- What is The Conversation Canada?
- How can I write about my research in The Conversation Canada?
- My research is about to be published, how do I get help promoting it?
- I have received a call from a journalist about my research, how do I get help in responding?
- What are my responsibilities as a Principal Investigator?
- I have relocated to the university how can I transfer my funded research projects here?
- How can I sub-contract or transfer research funding between researchers or institutions?

Provide feedback